

Narberth Red Cross Room Closes Splendid Record of Work Well Done

NARBERTH MEMORIAL TO SOLDIER AND SAILOR BOYS.

A meeting of the general committee to further consider the project of a suitable memorial to our soldier and sailor boys was held in Elm Hall Thursday evening, January 2nd. Representatives of the various organizations in the Borough were present, Mr. Carl B. Metzger presiding. It was definitely decided at this meeting that the Thank Boxes, distributed some time ago, would be collected on Sunday, January 19, by the Narberth Home Guard. In order that this may be done as quickly as possible, residents are requested to decide beforehand what they will contribute, and have the boxes ready for delivery when the collector calls.

A resolution was adopted creating a committee to receive the boxes when collected, check them up with the record of their numbers on file, and count the contents. This committee consists of William D. Smedley, Daniel Leitch, George M. Davis and Edward S. Haws. Postmaster Haws, Treasurer of the Home Guard, was appointed as Treasurer of the general committee.

The opinion was expressed that this offering would amount to several thousand dollars. To realize this expectation, there must be a good general average in the box contributions. As there are between eight and nine hundred families in Narberth, the amount would not, on an average, be great for any one family. It is believed by the committee that the object of this fund will appeal to every resident. It is designed to honor our own boys who so freely offered their services and lives to free the world and make it safe. Let us show by our actions that this is fully appreciated.

The committee, consisting as it does of representative citizens, may safely be depended upon to decide on a memorial that will in every way be worthy. That the form of the memorial has not yet been decided upon indicates that the subject is receiving the most careful consideration.

Mufflers.....	195
Trench Caps.....	26
Total articles.....	3,162

Mrs. Fletcher W. Stites, Chairman of the Narberth Section and Director of Surgical Dressings, presents the following report of her department, which closed November 18th, 1918:

Sterile Gauze Dressings.....	68,185
Non-sterile Muslin Bandages.....	3,150
Total articles.....	71,335

Mrs. Walter I. Dothard, in charge of the recently organized Reclamation Department, which is still in operation, reports:

Garments repaired..... 390
Grand total of articles made and repaired, 78,215.

Mrs. Dothard announces that there is still need of workers for repairing garments, and that she will deliver garments to any volunteers for this work, and collect them when ready.

Both the Red Cross Headquarters at Bryn Mawr and the Red Cross House at Merion extend a cordial invitation to Narberth ladies to continue work with them.

Mrs. Redifer announces that her Department is still active, as there is a great demand for knitted articles, and that wool may be obtained from her at her home.

NARBERTH GUARD MEMBERSHIP.

At a recent meeting of the Narberth Guard a Membership Committee was appointed by Captain Hartley for the purpose of mustering those who contemplate joining the organization.

Inasmuch as there is much to be accomplished by the Guard in the near future, it has been decided to continue the organization instead of being mustered out as have some Main Line Guards recently. Our local organization has been ready at all times, both day and night, to protect life and property in this community, both as a military unit and a reserve police force, and will continue to act as such.

A special appeal for recruits is made at this time in order that we may increase our membership prior to the welcome by the community to the Narberth boys now in the service of their country upon their return home.

Drills are held every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Fire House. Send in your name to Captain Hartley or any member of the following committee, and your application will receive prompt attention:

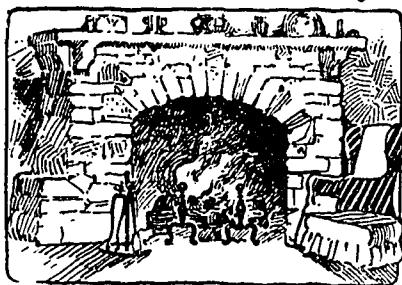

Horace C. Obdyke, Chairman, A. V. Emmett, J. B. Morgan, Carl Newborg, Wm. Newborg, C. V. Noel, A. H. Nulty, George Rose.

1919 WAR SAVINGS STAMPS.

1919 War Savings Stamps should not be affixed to 1918 War Savings Certificates, nor should 1918 War Savings Stamps be affixed to 1919 War Savings Certificates. It is important that the public thoroughly understand this; also that more than $100.00 worth of War Savings Stamps may be purchased at one time. Anyone holding the limit of $1,000.00 of 1918 series may purchase $1,000.00 of the 1919 series.

Postmaster.

EDITORIAL

The final report of the Narberth Section of the Red Cross Society appears in this issue. It is a record of which we may justly be proud. The women of this town have done their full share of this patriotic and highly important work. We congratulate each and every one who took part in it on this splendid showing. All are worthy of the highest commendation.

Next Monday evening there is to be a very important meeting of our Council. Questions will be discussed of vital interest to taxpayers, and it is the duty of all citizens to attend the meeting and show by their presence their interest in the problems that confront our governing body.

To the Editor of Our Town:

Will the families and friends of the brave Narberth boys who have fallen in defense of their country derive any consolation in a bit of stone erected in their memory? There are so many other dear boys who have been wounded—perhaps blinded—who need material aid far more than is necessary a monument for those who met a glorious death.

Why not commemorate that death by using contributions to create a fund—a real monument—to help those "who walk in darkness"?

Surely there are others who agree that there could be no more lasting monument than such a fund placed in competent hands.

RENEE C. BARRIE.

To the Editor of Our Town:

If ever there lived a mortal in whom breathed the true spirit of brotherly love his name was Henry Clark Gara. A man of many talents, of wide experience and capable of achieving success in almost any branch of material endeavor, he chose rather to devote his whole soul and being to furthering the welfare of his fellow-man. If there were a busier man in Narberth I have not heard of him; yet with a multiplicity of self-imposed duties on his shoulders, for the performance of which his friends wondered how he ever found the time, he was always cheerfully ready to assume additional tasks. Narberth will sorely miss the man who gave his time, his means, his energy and all the abilities with which he was endowed to such objects as the Liberty Loan, War Chest, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. and innumerable worthy causes, to say nothing of the charities for which he labored all his life. When anything worth while was to be done and a leader and worker needed, the call was always for Gara, and never in vain. He was invariably kindly and pleasant of manner with all whom he came in contact, and yet showed no trace of the self-advertiser; in fact, if Gara was not one of the most extremely modest and retiring of men, I have never met a modest man. Although conversing with him often, I have never heard from his lips an unkind word regarding another. He was happiest when laboring for the rest of us, and to me he seemed happy always. I doubt that the person lives who has ever heard Gara complain. Personally I respect the institutions with which Gara was connected all the more because of his relationship to them. He was broad-minded to a degree, never obtrusive with his opinions, most charitable and tolerant in thought and action. In no man were more effectually combined the virtues of Faith, Hope and Charity.

This obituary of Henry Gara is no hysterical attempt to canonize him, but rather the sincere and not hastily formed opinion of those who knew him well and enjoyed the privilege of observing him in his daily life. When I say that he was the most valuable and most loved man in Narberth, I feel that I am giving expression to the sentiments of a majority of my fellow-citizens. His going has left a void that I doubt can ever be filled, but the Borough is better for his having lived among us. We should have learned a lot from Gara's life.

H. R.

To the Editor of Our Town:

Just about a week ago we had what looked at first to be a very serious fire in the garage at Price and Iona avenues, but with the prompt response of the Narberth Volunteer Fire Department much property was saved and the loss small, with what it might have been.

It seems to me that we who lay in bed on these extremely cold mornings should have a word of praise for the fellows, who though not paid for the service, get up and off to help save our property and possibly lives.

Some of our citizens have been heard to remark that the Fire Company saves very little property. To anyone so misinformed, please state that property saved through the service of these men amounts up in the thousands of dollars.

Credit and praise where it is due, and I for one have the greatest respect for our fire fighters.

E. P. DOLD.

The announcement of the death of Ex-President Theodore Roosevelt was received with genuine sorrow throughout the world. In our own country, all party differences have been forgotten in the general recognition of his character, ability and achievements. The record of his life will ever be an inspiration, illustrating as it does the possibilities of a steadfast adherence to the highest ideals of an American citizen.

His positive convictions and sturdy self-assertiveness were bound to create differences of opinion, but it was ever realized that there was no self-seeking in his course. Whatever he did, it was for the best interests of his country. Himself a soldier of distinguished ability, he freely offered his services in the great world conflict, and just as freely gave his sons. No better evidence could be given as to the estimation in which he was held, than the fact that he was considered the logical candidate of the Republican party for the next election. The tributes to his memory received from eminent men in every quarter of the globe are sincere and touching in their recognition of those noble qualities that made him a real citizen of the world.

The Narberth Civic Association with other organizations in the Borough mourns the loss of one of its most loyal friends, Mr. H. C. Gara. He was one who enthusiastically supported every movement for civic improvement, and gave his support in word and in deed. As President of the Civic Association I wish to add my tribute to his work particularly during this past year. Nothing was too much trouble; nothing too small or too big, for him to undertake and see through to the finish. And best of all, the work was done with cheerfulness and an optimism which was an immense help to all with whom he was associated.

Narberth has lost a friend, a booster, a real man, whose place cannot be filled, and all of us have lost a friend who made this world here below a better place to live in. Our deepest sympathy goes out to his family in this their hour of sorrow.

IS THE Y. M. C. A. PROFITEERING OVERSEAS?

Association Charged With the Sale of Gift Tobacco.

In accordance with the request of several Narberth residents, the following facts are presented for the consideration of every reader of this paper:
Question No. 1: Is it true that the Y. M. C. A. has failed to keep in touch with the wounded and ill?

It is true. This is in accordance with an agreement with the American Red Cross to avoid duplication of effort.

Question No. 2: Is it true that the Y. M. C. A. has been profiteering by the operation of the canteens overseas?

It is NOT true. Bulletin No. 33 from General Pershing's headquarters provides that any profit derived from the canteens shall be used exclusively for the benefit of the men of the army.

The following telegram from Third Assistant Secretary of War F. P. Keppel is self-explanatory:

"Matter of prices asked by Y. M. C.
A. in canteen overseas investigated by War Department and condition being remedied. Y. M. C. A. originally asked by General Pershing to run canteen for army on cost basis. To do this had to reckon in price fixing such overhead charges as transportation and marine insurances. Prices therefore much higher than in this country. Y. M. C. A. made no profit, but lost thousands of dollars. Arrangements now made will enable them to obtain supplies from sources that will reduce overhead charges and keep prices down."

Raymond D. Fosdick, Chairman of the Commission on Training Camp

Activities, after returning from an investigation in Europe, fully exonerates the Y. M. C. A. from such charges and highly commends the high character of the heroic service they are performing.

Question No. 3: Is it true that the Y. M. C. A. furnishes free nothing more than writing paper to men overseas?

It is NOT true. During the month of September of last year the Y. M. C. A. distributed, to soldiers overseas, $75,000 worth of supplies. This is in addition to $150,000 excess of cost over selling price on supplies sold during that month, the last month of which a full report has been received. Besides giving away vast quantities of supplies in front line work, the Y. M. C. A. supplied between July and November to the army overseas free use of hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of magazines and educational supplies.

Question No. 4: Is it true that gift tobacco was sold at Y. M. C. A. canteens overseas?

It is true that this was done in several instances, and the circumstances are these: The New York Sun, Chicago Tribune and possibly other parties shipped tobacco to France in CARE OF THE QUARTERMASTER with the intention of having it distributed free to soldiers. Some portions of this tobacco, because cases were not sufficiently marked, were SOLD to the Y. M. C. A. by the QUARTERMASTER and retailed in certain Y. M. C. A. canteens to soldiers at the price paid the Quartermaster. Later, when soldiers opened these parcels, they found in them evidence that they had been intended for free distribution. In every case where these were returned the Y. M. C. A. furnished free an equivalent amount of tobacco from its own supplies. The New York Sun states that they have investigated several stories of this kind and found the facts to be as stated above. The Quartermaster concerned has also investigated the matter and fully ex-onerates the Y. M. C. A. The Quartermaster himself has sold to the soldiers these same packages of tobacco intended for free distribution, being entirely ignorant of the fact that they had been sent over for free distribution.

Question No. 5: Is it true that ministers of religion in the service of the Y. M. C. A. overseas refused to attend to the material wants of soldiers until these soldiers had answered questions as to their spiritual attitude or condition?

Those men in charge of supervision and inspection of the overseas work can recall no case of this kind having been brought to their attention. The organization stands ready to recall any one of its workers of whom it might be proved that he had followed such a course.

Question No. 6: Is it true that the typical attitude of the Y. M. C. A. workers has been that of holier-than-thou persons?

As the Association has been very severely taken to task, and that recently, for appearing to be untrue to its religious tradition and failing to set forth the claims of religion upon the soldiers to a sufficient extent, the leaders feel pretty confident that these op-

Henry Clark Gara

AN APPRECIATION

By His Pastor, Rev. John Van Ness.

Entered into his rest on the morning of December 28, 1918, Henry Clark Gara.

God removes His workmen, but their work continues. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, from henceforth; yea, saith the Spirit that they may rest from their labors, and their works do follow them."

H. C. Gara was born in Lancaster County, Pa., about 60 years ago. At an early age he made a public confession of his faith in Jesus Christ, and since that day has matched his profession with his life. He united with the Cohocksink Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia and later with the Princeton Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia. In this latter church he was elected Ruling Elder in 1898 and was also for many years Superintendent of the large Sabbath School of this church. When he moved to Narberth, nine years ago, he and his family united with the local Presbyterian Church, and since that time he has been one of the leading workers in this church. It can be truthfully said that he was present at every meeting when possible. There was never a Wednesday evening so stormy that he remained away. There was never a task so discouraging that he was not willing to undertake it. Ofttimes he has said to the pastor of this church, "Use me in any way you can." He was always ready to teach a class in Sunday School, to lead a prayer meeting, to address the Young People's Meeting—always ready, willing and glad to be used. Attendance upon church service was considered by him as so important that if obliged to be absent from any meeting, he would send a notice to the pastor beforehand giving the cause of his absence. Truly the loss sustained by this church and pastor will be keenly felt for many years to come.

And what is true of this church is equally true of this entire community. H. C. Gara belonged to the community. He identified himself with every worthy movement for the betterment of Narberth. He lived a life of kindness and unselfishness. There will be no need for a tablet to his memory. He has erected a living monument whose dimensions will over increase as the years go on. A conscientious sense of duty ever inspired and impelled him. To mention one object in which he was interested would seem at once to discriminate against the many others in which he was equally interested. Nothing that was worth while seemed to him to be too laborious or to require too much time and thought.

His illness was but of a few days' duration and his sudden death came as a great shock to us all. The body, now unoccupied, was quietly laid to rest in the family plot in beautiful West Laurel Hill Cemetery on last Tuesday afternoon. On the evening of that day, according to the notice published in Our Town of last week, he was to act as "Host" in the Y. M. C. A. rooms. Surely his spirit will hover over this organization, which he loved so well. Surely his spirit will remain with us always. May the blessed memory of this useful life inspire us all to make the most of these fleeting moments as they pass.

Many years ago Horatius Bonar wrote the following words which most fittingly apply to this man of God:

"So let my name and my place be forgotten;

Only my life race be patiently run.
So let me pass away, peacefully, silently,

Only remembered by what I have done."

H. C. Gara---Constructive Citizen

H. C. Gara, constructive citizen, gone! It seems impossible. Only two weeks ago I talked with him of Narberth and his hope to win the co-operation of Mr. Parker Williams to the end that a skating place might be supplied the youth of Narberth this winter.

Whenever I talked with Mr. Gara it was of something to add to the happiness or profit of others. I considered him the most unselfish man it has been my privilege to know, and Narberth owes him praise and honor in unstinted measure.

It was he who would suggest many measures of improvement for Narberth and insist that others be given the credit; it was he who would say: "Tell me to do something and I'll do it;" it was he who, when assigned a given task, always did what was expected of him, and then looked for more to do; it was he who when made a leader (rarely would he accept an honor position, rather desiring to work in the ranks) thoughtfully and persistently and aggressively made it a point to shower his associates with his far-famed yellow envelopes which contained helpful suggestions or kind or encouraging words.

H. C. Gara was a great leader of men, though he was always in the background—and his yellow envelopes and yellow memorandum slips have put heart and life into untold numbers of public, semi-public and private movements of a worth-while character.

I, for one among many, shall miss him as a stimulator in civic work; I shall miss him as a friend and counselor; I shall miss him as a co-worker.

Narberth will miss him in many ways of which only a few of his intimate associates have knowledge.

H. C. Gara has helped train many of the younger generation to be civic-minded in an active way and they can do no better than to do their best to perpetuate his spirit through service, such as he rendered, as time and opportunity permit.

H. C. Gara has gone and his friends in Narberth mourn their loss. His life and his work leave their impress behind, and for both his friends in Narberth are grateful!

W. ARTHUR COLE.

Philadelphia, December 28, 1918.

TO H. C. GARA.

A Good Man, a Good Friend and a Good Citizen.

In the death Saturday week of Mr. H. C. Gara, scores of our residents lost a staunch and faithful friend, and the Borough lost one of its best and most helpful citizens.

Only those who have been associated with Mr. Gara in his many activities in the interest of Narberth and its general welfare, have any idea of the tremendous amount of work that he did and the indefatigable manner with which he carried through every enterprise that he engaged in.

It is well within the truth to say that every organization and institution in Narberth has been helped and benefited in some way by Mr. Gara. He was never too busy or too tired to take on additional work, or to undertake a new job that had for its object the good of our Borough. No work was ever too insignificant for him and no job was ever too big for him to tackle.

But for his willing services and his generous self-sacrifice of his time, ability and energy, our Civic Association would not be in existence to-day; our community newspaper, Our Town, would not have survived the several crises through which it has passed. No one person contributed more to the success of the Historical Fete and to the Patriotic Pageant than Mr. Gara. With one or two others he made possible Narbrook Park. He worked unsparingly in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. and in the many phases of war work conducted by our citizens during the last two years—to mention only a few of the movements in which he was active.

In fact, during the last seven or eight years, Mr. Gara has been one of the chief sources of action back of practically every civic movement looking to the welfare of our community and to the pleasure, happiness and comfort of our people, always remaining in the background himself, modestly saying that he was glad to do his best, but insisting that he did no more than many others. During the hottest weather, during the coldest weather, during the stormiest weather, and from early morning until late at night, he was always on the job. He could be depended upon absolutely.

Personally, Mr. Gara was kindly, genial, cheerful and optimistic.

Looking back over his life and activities, anyone who has known him for a number of years cannot but speculate and wonder what a different place Narberth would be, what a different place the whole world would be, if every man and every woman gave half as much of himself and herself to the welfare of others as H. C. Gara gave to the welfare of his town—our town of Narberth, and to our people!

His life and work should be an inspiration to everyone. By his self-sacrificing labor in the interest of others, he built for himself a monument of good deeds and real service to his fellow men, that is more worth while than the biggest and most spectacular material achievement that it is possible for any man to win.

It must be a source of the deepest gratification to the members of his family to realize the splendid reputation that Mr. Gara left for service to his fellow-men, which is, after all, the only achievement that is genuinely worth while and lasting.

Seven hundred and forty persons had War Savings Stamps registered at the Narberth Post Office during the year 1918. Shall we all continue the good work during 1919?

There are two letters addressed to "P," Our Town, in answer to a classified advertisement appearing in December 28 issue. Will "P" please send his name and address to the Editor, so that the letters may be forwarded?

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Wetherill have returned to their home in Washington, after spending the holidays with their respective parents, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Wetherill, of Rosemont, and Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Nash, of Narberth.

The Community Bible Class will meet in the Y. M. C. A. Rooms next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock to take up the study of Jeremiah. All are cordially invited to come and study this interesting book with Rev. H. S. Tillis as teacher.

Miss Augusta Witherow entertained informally at dancing on Thursday evening. Among those present were Misses Mildred Harris, Hilda Smedley, Jane Laird, Laura Cyle and Messrs. Milton Brown, Paul Grimley, Daniel Snyder, Guy Gundaker and Samuel Gayley.

Mr. P. E. Howard, at the request of the English Government, has been studying conditions in Ireland, England, France and Belgium in connection with work among soldiers and sailors. Mr. Howard is a keen observer and a wonderful word painter. Come and hear him in the Presbyterian Church next Sunday evening.

Mrs. Edwin Wolf, of 509 Essex avenue, passed away after a comparatively short illness, leaving her husband and three small children to grieve their loss. Death's hand is no respecter of persons. It always leaves sadness, but seldom is more true sympathy due than when a mother leaves behind her a family of small children.

It will help if you have the "Thank Box" ready when the Home Guards call on Sunday, January 19th. They have many calls to make. All "Thank Boxes" will be taken by the Guards to the Fire House, where a committee consisting of Messrs. Wm. D. Smedley, Daniel Leitch, G. M. Davis and Edward S. Haws will check them off and count the contents.

"Too Fat to Fight," Rex Beach's latest production, to be shown at the Palace, Ardmore, on Wednesday, contrasts our first easy going indifference to world events with the splendid spirit which gradually grew in our hearts—even in cold hearts—under the inspiring influence of nobly conceived ideals and their application to common suffering. A splendid story of a fat patriot who wanted to get into the fight and did.

The Misses Grace and Kathleen Calhoun, of Ottawa, Canada, have left for Boston, after a short visit with Miss Puckman, Wynnewood Road. Like so many other Canadian and American girls, the Misses Calhoun have been actively engaged in war relief work. One of their brothers made the supreme sacrifice on the battlefields of Europe, another is still in the English Army, and the last heard from him he was on his way to Russia.

Miss Mildred Harris entertained at dancing on New Year's night the following: Misses Hilda Smedley, Jane Laird, Augusta Witherow, Margaret Mayes, Ethel Fallon, Virginia Downes, Sarah Mahon, Ethelwyn Vandivere, Madelyn McCoy, Mrs. Lester Jefferies and Messrs. Charles McCarter, Frank Winne, Lawrence Dairs, Louis Martin, Milton Walker, William Donahue, John Cunningham, Walter Lloyd, John Nathan, Lester Jefferies, John Jefferies, William Harris, Gordon Harris.
